Truman Maintains U. S. Must Take World Leadership

Realizing for the people of this country a full life which resources make possible and helping to achieve for people everywhere an era of peace are the two huge tasks emphasized by the Honorable Harry S. Truman in his dedicatory address last Sunday of the new National Guard armory on College Memorial Drive.

"We are all looking forward to the day when law rather than force will be the arbitrator of international relations," he maintained. "We shall strive to make that day come soon, and when it does come, let us make sure that no possible aggressor is going to be tempted by any weakness on the part of the United States."

Four military tasks, directed not toward war, not toward conquest, but toward peace were stressed by the former President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces:

"First, our army, navy and air force, in collaboration with our allies, must enforce the terms of peace imposed upon any of our defeated enemies."

"Second, we must fulfill the military obligation which we are undertaking as a member of the United Nations organization to support a lasting peace and to support it by force if necessary."

"Third, we must cooperate with other American nations to preserve the territorial integrity and political independence of the nations of the western hemisphere."

"Fourth, in this troubled and uncertain world our military forces must be adequate to discharge the fundamental mission laid upon them by the Constitution of the United States, to provide for the common defense of these United States."

We now know, he believes, that the only way to make our freedom secure is to use our military strength to preserve the peace of the world.

"We have assured the world time and time again that we do not seek for ourselves one inch of territory anywhere in the world outside of the right to establish

John Taylor Completes Written and Oral Tests

The social science department has announced that Mr. John S. Taylor, who is attending the University of Illinois, has completed and passed his written and oral examinations for his doctor's degree. He has his dissertation left to do.

Robert A. Smith, Editorial Writer, To Give Assembly

Robert A. Smith, an editorial writer for the New York Times, will present the assembly Friday, March 4, at 10 a. m.

Mr. Smith was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University, where he had won the Ohio Rhodes Scholarship. He returned to the United States with his Oxford degrees and started in as a teacher, but after a short time he found that journalism was his niche.

Specializing in the Far East and national defense, Mr. Smith has a job that keeps him at one of the great nerve-centers of foreign news in the United States.

These experiences have been reflected in his writing. In 1940 he brought out his prophetic book on the forthcoming Japanese attack, "Our Future in Asia," followed the next year by "Your Foreign Policy." His book, "Divided India," brought out in 1947, deals in part with his experiences during the war and the problem of India and Pakistan.

"Mr. President" Comes to Maryville

Truman Maintains U. S. Must Lead

necessary bases for our own protection," observed the distinguished guest. "We look for nothing that belongs to any other power. No nation in the history of the world who had assumed our position has ever had a policy such as that."

Mr. Truman wondered what some of his old colleagues in the Senate who would not give a dime to see a murder, what some isolationist newspaper chain controllers, and what some of our present totally economic advisers, who have cut the armed forces at this time, would have said if any "of us who have the general welfare of the country at heart" had spent four billion dollars plus for schools, roads, dams, and other improvements which would have been assets to this country!

"Wouldn't there have been a terrific yell to high heaven that the country was being ruined and bankrupt forever?" he questioned. "Yet in this last world war we shot away that much money and killed thousands and thousands of young men all over the world. And that was necessary because we had run out on our own responsibility in 1920."

"My friend, let's not do that again!" admonished the thirty-second President of the United States.

"We are slowly and gradually becoming used to the fact that a world power, a leader of the free nations of the world, must be able to exercise leadership, and unless it can, there is no leadership and there is no peace. Remember that!" Mr. Truman warned his audience.

Nearly every President since Washington's time has tried to get a military policy for this country that would still be a civilian military policy and still protect the country from any danger that might face it, he explained.

The military is subservient to the civilian government of any republic, and when it ceases to be that, the republic no longer continues to exist, he asserted.

"The citizen's soldier is the bulwark of our liberties," cited Harry S. Truman, as did George Washington. It is necessary that civilian soldiers be trained and supported in order that the defense of this great country be proper and efficient.

"Our wars have created a situation which has developed the greatest republic in the history of the world," he told his attentive listeners. "The first one was for freedom of the republic from foreign control, and the rest of them were fought to maintain that freedom. It is necessary for us to have complete support of the United Nations, which is our only hope for peace."

The dedication of the armory followed a dinner attended by about 500 persons on the 90 by 60 foot drill floor of the brick and concrete block structure. Mr. Truman unveiled a plaque dedicating the building to Capt. Harold R. Martin and Master Sergeant Cleo H. Pedersen, members of the artillery unit who died December 3, 1954, in a plane crash north of St. Joseph, while they were flying a National Guard mission.

Mr. Truman was introduced by Col. Edward V. Condon, who spoke of the former President's "regard for the common man, his loyalty, his integrity, his humility, and his devotion to his family and friends."

Mr. Truman was accompanied on the motor car trip, over icy roads, from Independence by Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Miss Margaret Truman.

Two 105-millimeter howitzers fired 21-gun salutes for the arrival and departure of Mr. Truman.

Lieut. Col. Leigh R. Wilson, present battalion commander, and Capt. Everett W. Brown, battery commander, introduced the military and civilian guests.

Mrs. Truman and Miss Truman were presented bouquets of roses after the party arrived. Steven Brown, 9-year-old son of the battery commander, made the presentation. The party stood in sub-freezing temperatures while the former President inspected an honor guard of uniformed enlisted men and the flag was raised above the building.

Notes About the Faculty . . .

Miss Joann Harristhal, member of the College physical education department, has been serving as a sectional committee chairman of the Central District of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. The AAHPER will hold its central district meeting in St. Paul, Minnesota, during March 30-April 2.

Miss Harristhal's committee which is planning the program about camping, has invited four widely-known speakers. Two of them are Miss Helen Hartwig, University City, who will speak on school camping in Missouri, and Dr. Renold Carlson, University of Indiana, who will speak on family camping.

Dr. Leon F. Miller, chairman, division of education, will be in Chicago, February 24-26, for sessions of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and the Association for Student Teaching. He will be responsible for leading discussions in two sessions of the AST meeting on February 25.

Dr. June Cozine and Miss Mabel Cook attended a meeting in Chicago sponsored by the Home Economics Educational Branch of the Office of Education in the Central Region, February 14-18.

Both Dr. Cozine and Miss Cook assumed leadership responsibilities for group meetings. Dr. Cozine also participated as a member of a panel to discuss the cooperative research problem in which home economics students of the College are participating.

Mrs. Vonderschmidt Is Guest at Memorial

In an impressive ceremony at the state capitol, Jefferson City, February 15, tribute was made to the late Lester A. Vonderschmidt. Mr. Vonderschmidt was Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives at the time of his death last spring.

Mrs. Vonderschmidt, a guest of the ceremony, was presented a large bouquet of American Beauty roses from the girls of Residence Hall and friends of the College as the tribute was made.

Mrs. Vonderschmidt, who has been at the College since last fall, will receive her degree at the end of the spring semester.

tures of "that one and only," flowers, candy, and comic Valentines.

Congrats go to Betty Nazarene who was crowned queen of the Alpha "Sweetheart Dance."

Styles seem to be changing. Looks like everyone is trying to dress alike lately. Maybe the dress shops should be warned about the approaching rush sales on green skirts, pinafores, and gunny sacks!

Speaking of fads, what has happened to those knee-high socks? The Stroller thought there would be a lot of high steppers on campus.

Thanks go to the basketball squad for giving us a swell season of games. The sports spotlight now turns to the track team.

The Stroller wants to remind you to vote for your choice of EYEBALLER and EYECATCHER on campus. Come on and "have a heart"—Help the Heart Fund.

Hunsicker Will Judge Beagle Field Trials

Evert Hunsicker, junior from Eagleville, whose hobby is raising Beagle dogs, has been asked to judge field trials sponsored by the Western Association of Beagle Clubs, Inc., April 2 and 3, in the wildlife area, near St. Louis.

The contestants will be dogs that have placed first, second, third, or fourth in the local competition in this area. There will be about one hundred dogs entered.

Mr. Hunsicker, who is majoring in agriculture, commutes to school each day.

Dogs have always been his hobby. At the present time, he owns fifty Beagles on his farm.

Mr. Hunsicker showed some dogs in a St. Joseph dog show one weekend recently and was on KFEQ-TV.

Residence Hall Girls Hold Valentine Party

Talent found on second floor provided the entertainment for the Residence Hall valentine party. Bat Crouse, acting M. C., introduced Nancy Kariger with her "Some Little Bug Will Get You," Pat Adams and Company in two comical songs, and Maria Gamboa who told about her early experiences in the United States.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were in keeping with the holiday tradition.

THE STROLLER

Well, here I am, and there you are; so let's take another stroll around campus. Tons of snow melting, plus warmer weather, all add up to spring fever. "That Little Bug Will Get You Some Day" if it hasn't already! This seasonal disease makes a person lazy and not worth his salt. Guess that is why the cafeteria is not serving salt and pepper with the meals anymore!

Dan Cupid, well-known College celebrity, celebrated his birthday here on campus, February 14. His gifts are still floating around—just take a look. Seems that the most popular things were cuff links, pic-

They're Talking About . . .

Spring . . . Can it be too far off? The basketball season is nearly over. Snow is melting and golf clubs are being brought out of their winter hibernation . . . Don't like to be a pessimist, but I'm afraid we still have some chilly weather ahead. So don't drain that anti-freeze yet; it could still get colder than an Eskimo's nose.

Bearcats romp . . . Sterling college was the victim of the rout, all the Bearcats saw action, all but one broke into the scoring column . . . Only one game remains, and it is a conference game . . . Be sure and make it to the Warrensburg game, February 26, the last game for some of the seniors and the last game of the 1954-1955 basketball season.

Track . . . If you happen to see some young men running around anywhere on the campus around four o'clock, be at ease . . . likely, these are track boys out running to condition themselves, or either just out seeing the campus . . . a lot of work is required for a good track team; Bearcat prospects are good for this spring.

Another good assembly last Friday . . . Attendance could still be better. See you at the next assembly!

We Cannot Shift the Task

In our average carefree life we give little thought to our defense.

Fortunately, in the past, our homes and children have been far enough removed from actual battle scenes to prevent any serious threat of their being attacked.

We sat snugly in our easy chairs feeling quite secure in the knowledge that our military forces would make sure we would have safe sitting.

Atom splitting with its devastating destruction has changed this scene.

No longer can we sit back and shift the task to others.

Defense is our responsibility.

Let's face the facts and prepare ourselves.

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to invite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Sigma Tau Gamma

Monday night's smoker was a big success; it was good to see so many of the old grads show up for this big occasion. Sorry our stripper was delayed because of cold weather.

Now hear this! Now hear this! The Calne Mutiny sails again. When you present your meal tickets, be sure to have salt ration stamps with you. "How many shakes did you have today?"

Tah, Rah, Rah Boomdeay
Did you have salt today?
I had some yesterday,
But she stowed it all away!
P.S. Back to the salt mines.

Members of the Student Christian Association met Wednesday, February 16, in the chapel at 6 p. m. The meeting was presided over by John Fred Whitford, president. A short business meeting preceded the program.

The nominating committee for the year 1955-1956, consisting of Helen Mulvania, Sherry Ryan, Peggy Andrews, and Myrna Falk, announced that for the presidency they have nominated Joyce Ely and Ted Reed; vice-president, Marcia Ely and Darlene Coleman; secretary, Wanda Kingsolver and Charlene Steiner; treasurer, George Green and Ed Herde; reporter, Anna Roberts and Miriam Gose.

Election of officers will be held all day on March 2. John Fred Whitford announced that for those who cannot attend the meeting of SCA, absentee ballots may be secured from him so that all members may vote on March 2. The new officers will be installed on May 4.

After a brief devotional, a panel discussion was presented, "An Evaluation of Religious Emphasis Week." Guests of the SCA that evening were the members of the Religious Week committee. The chairman of the panel committee was Ted Reed. Serving with him on the committee were Anna Roberts and Wreatha Jarvis.

Plans were made for an exchange meeting with Tarkio to be held on this campus on Thursday, March 17, at 7 p. m. The theme of the program is to be St. Patrick's Day.

The next meeting of SCA is to be a film, "One God and the Ways We Worship Him," to be shown at 8 p. m., March 2.

Delta Sigmas

"Please knock before entering." Delta pledges, Rosalie Hamilton and Carol Lee Evans, will underline this rule of etiquette after experience encountered during initiation. After all girls, it just isn't ethical.

Excursions to graveyards in which the actives suffer. It wasn't the pledges who got their cars stuck. Ask Verla Mosman and Helen Gillis.

Maryville citizens interested in knowing the all important number of parking meters are invited to contact Evelyn Mathews and Mary Griffin.

Time was when girls jotted down boys' telephone numbers. Not Shirley Ellyson and Carol Walker. Fellows, they have your license numbers.

Ellen Hedstrom and Lavonne VanMeter were sent to secure eplaphs and not to drink coffee. Could be that is why the ill health.

Sharon Olson and Kathy Taylor do have strange methods of obtaining autographs.

In an effort to prevent any unnecessary virus caused by exposure, hot tea and cookies were served by the actives after the round of trying escapades.

Sigma Sigmias

The past week the pledges have been busily parading around in their white pinafores and getting their shields signed. The shields were to have been completed by Tuesday night, but since many of the girls didn't quite make the grade, they are going to get a balloon signed. Some of the older members said that they remembered when signing a fresh egg was the next step!

The sorority room was a place of much activity Tuesday night. Plans were made for initiation the 19th and other activities such as breakfasts, dinner, and church. Dona Walker was chairman of initiation week-end.

At a coke party following the regular business meeting, the pledges sang their original Tri Sigma songs. They are a talented group! Some of those songs should give some songwriters a complex!

A bake sale and spring formal are the next two projects coming up, with the alumni tea just around the corner.

Deltas Entertain National President

Congratulations to Ruthie Tebow engagement. Thanks, Ruthie, for the chocolates!

Intermediate Club

Intermediate Club met in the Gold Room of the Union February 16. Girls initiated into the club were Sandra Almquist, June Harper, Alice Hoy, Shirley Johnson, Bettabelle Pitts, and Maxine Spry. Plans for future meetings were discussed and the club yearbook was given out to all members.

Teke Tips

Well, the second semester is in full swing again with many activities being planned by Delta Nu. Tommy Teke gives his warmest welcome to three new members: Bruce Pierce, Stan Stewart, and Ralph (Diz) Barnett.

Rush activities are well underway for the second semester with the pledge class now forming.

Maryville's Heart Fund Drive is receiving a boost from TEKE and the Boy Scouts of America. Mr. John Mauzey, associate TEKE, is chairman of the fund raising campaign. The Boy Scouts, under the direction of the members of Delta Nu, will make a house to house canvass this week to help raise money.

Delta Nu will also sponsor a contest at the College to find the "Eyeballer" among the men on campus and the "Eyecatcher" among the women. Each penny contributed to the Heart Fund will count as one vote for a very worthy cause.

A. C. E.

A. C. E. met in the kindergarten room of the Horace Mann school, February 9. Rev. Franklin D. Kohl of the Christian Church gave an inspiring message.

At the annual Valentine Party, February 16, Miss Kathryn McKee acted as substitute hostess, replacing Miss Chloe Millikan. The members would like to thank Miss McKee and the officers who served in the absence of Miss Millikan.

Plans are being made to attend the National A. C. E. Convention at Kansas City.

Phi Sig Review

Phi Sig Founder's Day banquet was held in the Lakeview Room at the Union, Tuesday evening, February 15.

Plans for the frolics this spring are now under way. The frat hopes to have a bigger and better two-day program this year.

Committees for the smoker have been working out to make it a success this evening, February 23.

The Phi Sigs had all three teams in the intramural basketball finals. Next will come volleyball, softball, and many other games that can be played on a team basis.

New officers will be elected the first part of March and will begin their duties at that time.

Independent Club

The IC's enjoyed a "Swimming Party" along with other recreation February 15. Coming activities for the IC's will be bowling, record dance, and a card party.

Edwin Herde heads the committee for the concession stand at the next ball game.

Belated congratulations to Beverly Porter and Gordon Garrett on their marriage.

From Other Campuses

Cape Girardeau—The feature of Cape State's Annual Spring Dance, March 19, will be the music of the renowned Sauter-Finegan organization. Sauter-Finegan will follow the bands of Stan Kenton and Ralph Flanagan, which made appearances on Cape's campus during the past two years.

Springfield—The students at Southwest Missouri State College sponsored an "Ugly Man" contest during the March of Dimes Week. A penny in a candidate's money container was a vote for the "Ugly Man." The proceeds of the voting are given to the March of Dimes. Last year $105 was given to the March of Dimes through this contest.

Livestock Judging team candidates are in training for the annual spring contest to be held in Oklahoma City on March 12.

Team candidates are working hard this year under the direction of their coach, Mr. F. B. Houghton, who is an instructor in the agriculture department. They are working Monday through Friday from 4 until 6 p. m. and on Sunday afternoons.

They are concentrating on hogs, cattle, sheep and quarter horses. Thus far in their tryouts the boys have had classes at the farms of Mr. Houghton and the Rancho Del Rio. On February 7 the boys went to Hamilton and attended a J. C. Penney sale of purebred angus cattle.

The team and their coach plan to leave for Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, on March 9. On their way down they plan to stop to get some extra practice on classes furnished by some of the well known breeders in the United States.

Bearcats Seek Revenge from Mules in Final Game

Four Seniors See Final Bearcat Action

Seeking to avenge a previous loss, Coach Gregory's Bearcats will challenge the Warrensburg Mules here February 26.

Seniors who will see action in Saturday's game for the last time as part of the Bearcat squad will be Bill Baldwin, John Garner, Ono Monachino, and Jim Swaney.

If the Bearcats can come through and win this game from the Mules, it would leave Maryville and Warrensburg tied for fourth place in the MIAA Conference.

Warrensburg, however, has won their last two conference games and will offer the Bearcats some strong competition.

Bearcats Take Two And Lose One On the Hardwoods

Sterling, Kansas, suffered a 83-61 upset at the hands of the Bearcats, February 14.

Action was seen by each of Coach Gregory's 14-man squad.

Weldon Dowden's rebounding marked one of the outstanding features of the game.

"B" Team Drops Tarkio in Final Game

Maryville's "B" team defeated Tarkio February 18 by the score of 76-66. The game with Tarkio was a hard fought game because of Tarkio's two boys who averaged 6'6" and 6'7".

Playing against an All Star Intramural Team the "B" team will finish the season Saturday night.

Even though the winnings were not great the team put out their best in each game and finished with a 5-5 record.

A good ending which may be said for the "B" team and their coach Earl Bridgewater is an old quotation, "it matters not if you win or lose. It's how you play the game."

Although the team did lose they endeavored to show good sportsmanship and plenty of spirit.

Appreciation and thanks to Coach Bridgewater for the time and the effort he gave to make this "B" team a part of the campus activities.
